Founded in 2002, Kardan University stands as the pioneering and foremost private university in Afghanistan. With a significant emphasis on academic excellence, Kardan University has garnered a notable reputation and has become a familiar name across the country. At present, Students are pursuing diploma, undergraduate, and graduate programs across its three campuses in the capital city of Kabul.

With a strong alumni network of 30,000 individuals, Kardan University has established itself as a highly regarded institution in Afghanistan. This recognition is further exemplified by over 600 of its graduates receiving prestigious graduate scholarships, including the Fulbright, Chevening, and DAAD, among others. Additionally, Kardan University has achieved accreditation through the International Accreditation Council for Business Education (IACBE) for its business programs, while also aspiring to earn accreditation with the ACBSP and AACSB. Moreover, the university proudly holds memberships in esteemed organizations such as the CHEA International Quality Group (CIQG), Asia Pacific Quality Network (APQN), and Global Business School Network (GBSN).

Beyond its academic contributions, Kardan University has played a pivotal role in the development and advancement of higher education in Afghanistan. In 2012, the university played a vital role in establishing the Association of Private Universities and Institutes of Higher Education in the country and served as its elected Chair for two consecutive terms.

Driven by its Vision of Excellence, Kardan University is committed to fostering excellence through research, faculty development, student growth, and public engagement. As a testament to its unwavering dedication to quality education, Kardan University earned national accreditation from the Ministry of Higher Education in September 2018, positioning itself as the leading institution among both public and private universities in Afghanistan.
